principles which I have been designated to represent in this political contest. No one can know better than the men who have for forty years or more watched the growth of the country and the effect of National policies upon that advancement what is best in times like these for the welfare of the people and the progress of the Nation. They have seen all policies tried, and they speak and act from actual experience. They are not controlled by ambition for office or the hope thereof, nor by theories, but by eternal facts, and their judgment in a contest like the present one is of great value, and to none more than to the young men of the country who for the first time will exercise the supreme act of citizenship. There are those present who will recall the campaign of "Tippecanoe and Tyler too"; some may go back to an earlier time even than that; but all of them will recall the days of the old Whig party, when Adams, Clay and Webster, and the elder Harrison, were the idols of their party and the leaders of its thought, and when Stanbury and Wright, Jackson and Benton, were the conspicuous and able champlons of the principles of the Democratic party. You have doubtless participated in many Presidential elections, and can winess this year with the earnest enthusiasm which you exhibited years ago in the "40's" and the "50's" and that mighty crisis of 1860. Do not forget the son is like the father, and be charitable to him if he gets too enthustastic and participates in more parades, processions and meetings than you would have him. (Laughter and applause.) I wish for you all lengthened years and increasing blessings.

At 2 o'clock several hundred employes of the Cleveland Street Railway Company called on Major McKinley and were addressed briefly.

The last delegation arrived after sunset, and came from Cumberland, Md. They marched to Major McKinley's home with torches and a band. The spokesman, G. W. Snyder, referred to the composite character of the delegation, and to the fact that Major McKinley was stationed in Cumberland

TO A MARYLAND DELEGATION. Major McKinley said:

I congratulate you upon the splendid victory achieved in your State last year. I congratulate the city of Cumberland upon being the residence of your distinguished Governor, the Hon. Lloyd Loundes, and of your distinguished United States Senator, the Hon. George L. Wellington. It is a long time since I addressed a Republican meeting in the city of Cumberland. When I spoke to you then, passion and hate character. It is a long time since I addressed a Republican meeting in the city of Cumberland. When I spoke to you then, passion and hate characterized the political contest. Fortunately the passion and prejudice which then prevailed has disappeared, and those who were then divided are now together fighting the battle of honest money and the public honor. Your State has wrested from the Democratic party its old-time majority, and registered a splendid Republican victory. I give you hospitable greeting. Let there be a repetition this year of the great victory so decisively and honorably won last year. Eliminating all minor issues, it is a contest for the preservation of law and order, and the independence, dignity and integrity of the Federal judiciary. What will the answer of Maryland be to that open challenge? It is for the continuance of honest money—gold, silver and paper—all equal to the best, and everywhere as good as the best, and the restoration of the protective tariff system, without which we cannot hope to have either permanent prosperity among our people or sufficient revenue to support the Government. Surely the voice of Maryland will not be heard

Surely the voice of Maryland will not be heart in the negative upon any one of these vital propositions. A State of her proud record in the Revolutionary War and in the second war with England, the State of Carroll and Pinckney, and of Wirt and of Francis Scott Key, will surely not falter now in any campaign affecting the National honor; a State with her vast commercial and material interests, whose prosecutive and development are so entirely dependent. commercial and material interests, whose pros-perity and development are so entirely depen-dent upon her great commerce, both maritime and inland; a State with her immense banking capital, her mighty labor interests, will never surely cast discredit upon the good name of the country, or asperse the honor and glory of the Republic; a State of her great manufacturing and agricultural interests cannot afford to longer continue a tariff policy that impoverishes her people and retards her growth.

Engagements for visiting delegations are still being freely made. Among them was "The Boston Herald's" pilgrimage of sound-money men of New-England.

WARD AND HEACOCK CONTESTING.

THEY GO TO LAW TO PROVE THE REGULARITY OF THEIR NOMINATIONS.

Hudson, N. Y., Oct. 14.-Proceedings of review in the matter of the filing of certificates of the nomithe matter of the ming of centicates of the matter in the XVIth Congress District, which includes Westchester County, were had to-day before Justice Edwards of the Supreme Court. Secretary of State Palmer had declared as regular the nomination of Congressman Ben. 1. Fairchild. made at a Republican convention held at Yonkers on September 16, and had directed that Mr. Fairchild's name be printed in the regular Republicar column on the official ballot. William L. Ward, the anti-Platt nominee, appealed from this decision to the Supreme Court in session here.

General Benjamin F. Tracy, of Brooklyn, counsel for the defendant, moved to dismiss the the grounds that the Supreme Court of Columbia County had no jurisdiction to review a decision on County had no jurisdiction to review a decision on a contested certificate, but that action must be brought in the district where the persons lived. The Court overruled his motion and the hearing was had, the argument occupying the entire day. At 5 p. m. the argument was ended and the Judge took the papers.

Albany, Oct. 14.—Seth G. Heacock, the candidate of the anti-Platt Republicans in the Oneida-Herkimer Congress District, has secured an order before Justice Herrick, returnable at 3 p. m. tomorrow, directing Secretary of State Palmer to show cause why his ruling that Congressman Sherman was the regular Republican candidate in that district should not be reversed. Mr. Heacock is seeking to have his name placed in the Republican column on the official ballot.

WAITING FOR M'KINLEY'S ELECTION.

Hagerstown, Md., Oct. 14.-Robert S. Crawford, president of the Crawford Bicycle Manufacturing Company, to-day said that there was no chance of the works starting up until after the election. The works employ 200 men. Mr. Crawford said that if McKinley was elected they expected to do as big a business as they did last year, but if Bryan was elected the conditions would be different and their business policy must be suited to the changed con-ditions.

GERMAN-AMERICANS ARE SOUND.

Louisville, Oct. 14 (Special).-The largest and most representative German-American meeting ever held in Kentucky, according to competent judges, assembled at Phoenix Hall in this city yesterday to listen to Frederick W. Holls, of New-York. Lewis N. Dembliz, a well-known Sound Money Democrat, presided, and nearly every prominent German-American of the city acted as vice-president. Mr. Holls spoke for about two hours and was received with great enthusiasm. He paid a high compliment to the noble struggle made by the Kentucky National Democrats. many of whom were in the audience. A stirring many of whom were in the audience. A surring speech was also made by Emil Von Schlimitz, of the "Anzeiger." The feeling in favor of Sound Money among Louisville's great German population is intense and not 2 per cent of this vote is reported unsound. Mr. Holis closed his campaign with an address in English at Owensboro to-night.

TALK WITH VICE-CHAIRMAN APSLEY.

HE CONSIDERS SENATOR QUAY'S ESTIMATE CON-SERVATIVE AND WILL GIVE OUT ONE OF HIS OWN NEXT WEEK.

Washington, Oct. 14 (Special).-Vice-Chairman Apsley, of the Republican Congressional Com-mittee, arrived in Washington to-day and will remain, not only until the close of the campaign, but until March 4, when he expects to witness the inauguration of President McKinley. He will have charge of headquarters here as soon as Chairman Babcock goes to Wisconsin to look after his own canvass, in which he has been prevented from taking part personally on account of his Important and absorbing duties in Washington,

In conversation with a Tribune correspondent on the political outlook, Mr. Apsley expressed him-self in the most confident terms. He regards Senator Quay's estimate of the probable number of McKinley electors who will be chosen as extreme conservative, and more likely to be exceeded Among other things he said: "I do not care to make public any estimate now, but will do so on October 23, in respect to both the electoral and Congress tickets. When I gave out my estimate two years ago of the political complexion of the House of Representatives, then about to be chosen it was derided by the opposition, and I was spoker of as 'Babcock's understudy,' a 'rainbow chaser, etc., but the estimate turned out to be reasonably accurate, although it fell slightly below the actual result. I recollect that Senator Faulkner, who was then, as now, chairman of the Democratic Committee, was disposed to make merry at my expense, and that he furnished an estimate for publication according to which the Democratis were to control the House by a fair working majority. Well, I hope to make as fair an estimate this year as I did two years ago, and I hope for his cwn sake that Senator Faulkner will do better than he then did. I confoss, however, that the statement emitted by Chairman Jones yesterday does not encourage the hope that we are likely to see any Democratic estimates based on knowledge and belief before the elections."

In regard to the situation and prospect in Massachusetts, Mr. Apsley said that the Republicans would elect eleven Congressmen and might possibly gain the district now represented by young Mr. Flizgerald, thus giving a solid delegation from that State. He also said that the quadrulex candidacy of George Fred Williams for the Governorship appeared to be dropping apart, and that he would not be surprised if George Fred's total vote fell considerably below 100,00, judging by present indications. expense, and that he furnished an estimate

A SURPRISE PREDICTED IN TEXAS.

Washington, Oct. 14 (Special).- "No doubt it will be an election of surprises," said Colonel Thomas West, of Fort Worth, Tex., at the Riggs House to-day, "but if I am not mistaken Texas is going to give the people of this country the greatest surprise on the 3d of November of any State in the Union. There is no predicting results on account of the mixed-up state of things, but the conditions are very squally for the silver Democrats. Their candidate for Governor, Charles A. Culberson, will, I think, suffer defeat at the hands of Jerome Kearby, the nominee of the Populists. In the district now represented by Colonel D. B. Culberson 'Cyclone' Davis is sure of being elected to Congress. It is pretty certain that he was elected in 1894, but the count was against him. Hawley, Republican, will be Miles Crowley's successor publican, will be Miles Crowley's successor in the Galveston District. Jenkins. Populist, will defeat ex-Congressman Lanham, who is running in the Fort Worth District, and Mr. Bailey will have the fight of his life to keep a Populist from getting his sent in the House, in the San Antonio District. Judge Noonan will be re-elected by the Republicans, and in the Dallas District Barney Globs, formerly Lieutenant-Governor, now a Populist leader, will down the silver Democratic nominee. All in all, I look to see a terrible shaking up of the Lone Star free-silverites, and if some pretty levelheaded men are not away out of their reckoning. McKinley's race is not at all in the nature of a foriorn hope."

GOLD DEMOCRATS AND THE PARTY NAME. Schoharle, N. Y., Oct. 14.—The question of the use of the title "The National Democratic Party" by the gold Democrats, as the caption of their ticket on the official ballot, came up before Judge Chester here to-day. Counsel for the gold Democrats requested an adjournment until the decision by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in the Brooklyn district on an identical issue should be learned. At this point a telegram was received from Brooklyn stating that the Appellate Court had rendered a decision reversing the ruling of Judge Clements and favorable to the gold Democrats, and that an appeal would be taken to the Court of Appeals. Judge Chester then adjourned the hearing of this case to his chambers at Albany, Saturday, the 77th inst.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—Chairman Martin, of the Na tional Democratic Party's Speakers' Bureau, has completed the itinerary of Palmer and Buckner through Wisconsin. He chartered a special train yesterday for the use of the nominees during their entire Northwestern tour. They will reach Chicago entire Northwestern tour. They will reach Chicago next Monday from New-Orleans, and will rest here for twenty-four hours. They will leave Chicago over the Northwestern line on Tuesday next. Stops wil be made for short talks at Kenosha and Racine, and that evening the Generals will speak at Milwaukee. Next day they will go across the State over the St. Paul road, short stops being made at Occonomowoc, Watertown, Columbus, Portage, Mauston, Tomah and Sparta. The evening demonstration will be held at La Crosse, Secretary Usher will accompany the nominees through Wisconsin, that being his State.

PLANS OF THE GREAT PARADE.

LICAN AND SOUND MONEY AS-

The Business Men's Republican and Sound Money Association, which is getting up the great parade of October 31, held a meeting in Parlor D R of the Fifth Avenue Hotel last evening, Colonel C. F. Homer presiding. Alexander Campbell, from the Committee on Stands, reported that two reviewing stands, one to accommodate 500 and one 1,600 peo-ple, could be put up for $500 by John M. Hamilton. The committee was authorized to go on with the erection of the stands-one to face Madison Square Park and the other to face Broadway, near the Worth Monument. The necessary permits have been obtained from the city authorities, and they are to be used for a grand mass-meeting on vening of October 31.

Mayor Strong was made chairman of the Stand Committee, and was requested to invite the chairmen of the National, State and County committees to review the parade with Mr. Hobart, and also Sound Money Democrats, including ex-Governor Flower, W. Bourke Cockran, ex-Mayors Hewitt and Grant and ex-Secretary Fairchild, to seats on

The Mayor reported that President Vreeland of the Broadway cable railway had agreed to keep Broadway clear of cars during the parade. No cars would go up from Barclay-st, after 9:30; none from Franklin-st, after 10:30, and none from Houston after 11:30 c.

Pranklin-st. after 19:39, and none from 11:39 a.

A. Noel Blakeman, chief of staff to General Horace Porter, grand marshal, reported that the General was necessarily absent, speaking in New-Jersey in the cause of sound money, but Mr. Blakeman said he was able to present a copy of General Porter's general orders for the parade.

The Grand Marshal's headquarters are established in Room No. 2 of the Mills Building, No. 15 Broad-st. Mr. Blakeman will be at headquarters daily hereafter from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m., to receive applications for places in the column.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES CHEERED.

One of the largest and most enthusiastic ratifica tion and mass-meetings on the East Side thus far in the campaign was that held last night under the aspices of the East Side Republican Sound Money League, in New Irving Hall, No. 214 Broome-st Long before 8 o'clock the large hall and gallery were filled, and hearty cheering was indulged in for all the Republican nominees whenever the band

Myer S. Isaacs opened the meeting and intro duced Edward Lauterbach as the principal speak-er of the evening. He began his speech by saving he knew he could look to the VIIIth Assembly District as being solidly Republican, and he be-District as being solidly Republican, and he believed that record would be just as good in the IVth and XIIth Assembly districts. He compilmented the voters of the districts named on their intelligence, and said that "where reason reigns Republicanism is safe." He declared for a tariff that would pay the country's debts and leave something over for a rainy day. A strong plea for money worth 190 cents on the dollar followed.

Otto A. Rosaisky, Charles S. Adler and others spoke.

The students of Columbia University on Tuesday night formed a sound-money club and elected Les ter, '97, its president. He was also elected to be Columbia's delegate to the meetings of the committee which has in charge the sound-money pa rade on October 31. The committee has given a rade on October 31. The committee has given a prominent place in the parade to the Columbia division. All those who care to take part in the parade were invited yesterday to fegister in "The Spectator" office. Within a short time more than 300 students had enrolled. "The Spectator" has canvassed the college, and has found that less than 1 per cent of the students are for free silver. It is expected that nearly all the students from the Physicians and Surgeons will be in the parade, as the feeling is stronger there than in any other part of the university.

The Executive Committee of the State Democracy held a meeting last evening at No. 258 West Twen ty-third-st. and arranged for a vigorous soundmoney campaign for the National and State tic and for their candidates for Congress and Ass biy in this city. Between thirty and forty meet will be held, at which well-known National De crats will speak.

GOOD NEWS FROM THE SOUTH. BRIGHT OUTLOOK IN ALABAMA-CONDI-

TIONS IN THE NORTHWEST. It was a quiet day at the Republican Nations Headquarters yesterday. Mr. Quay speat a part of the time with a pencil and paper figuring out the the time with a pencil and paper figuring out the situation, but he refraired from making another statement. In the afternoon another meeting of the Executive Committee was held, and the cam-paign in the South was discussed. Some encourag-ing reports were received from the South. The good news as to the Southern States has led the campaign managers to decide upon an even more igorous polley than at first mapped out. The chairman of the Alabama Republican State Committee, William Vaughan, of Birmingham, and General Joseph W. Burke, of Jacksonville, and Charles D. Alexander, of italia, members of the State Campaign Committee of Five, were among the callers at National Headquarters. They agreed in the statement that there was a hopeful outlook for Republican victory in Alabama, General Burke for Republican victory in Alabama. General Burke, in giving his reasons for this belief, said:

"People are surprised when they hear us talking about Alabama going Republican, because it went for Cleveland by over 50,000 four years ago, but the conditions now are very different. In 1832 there was no Republican organization and no authorized Republican electoral ticket. An independent Republican theket was run, and polled $.700 votes. The Populist ticket was run, and polled $.700 votes. The Populist ticket was the Cleveland ticket's competitor. Now, for the first time in twenty years, we have a regular, systematic and efficient organization, and we are werking like beavers. We have not only an electoral ticket, but local tickets in every district, save a few in which our men have withdrawn in favor of Sound Money Democratic candidates. We are recognized and respected now as an organized party and an important factor in the contest. Furthermore, the Populists and Sound Money Democrats are working earnestly with us for fair elections. I believe that one-half the Populists, who, you know, were formerly Democrats, will vote for McKinley. There is no question that the preponderating sentiment will find expression in a most surprising vote for McKinley. Joseph H. Manley, of the Executive Committee, is in receipt of an encouraging letter from W. W. Thomas, Br., of Portland, Me., who represented the United States at Stockholm under the Harrison Administration. Mr. Themas has just completed a speaking tour in the States of Minnessota and South Dakota, and is en route to North Pakota to continue his work in the interest of Mennessota and South both English and Swedish. He writes Mr. Manley that Minnessota, from a careful investigation on the Dakota will surely swing into the Republican column. in giving his reasons for this belief, said:

THE FRENCH-BROWN FIGHT IN COURT.

Justice Beckman, in Special Term, Part I of th Supreme Court, yesterday heard argument of counsel in the suit of Samuel G. French to compel the Board of Police Commissioners to reverse its action in accepting the certificate of nomination of Lawrence E. Brown as Republican candidate for the Assembly in the XXIXth Assembly Distric and rejecting his. in the district. French was nominated by faction that would not accept the roll of delegate as made up by the County Committee. Frank D. Pavey, who appeared as counsel for Mr. French contended that the County Committee had no right to make such a roll and force the convention to accept II.
Edward Lauterbach, who appeared for Brown said that the Republican County Committee was the only legal authority of the party, and had a perfect right to make up the roll, which should is accepted. He contended that Brown was entitled to the certificate. Decision was reserved.

BETS, BUT NO TAKERS.

There is mighty little Bryan money in Wall Street, E. B. Talcott offered on the Stock Ex change yesterday to bet $15,000 to $5,000 that Mc Kinley would be elected. No taker appeared. One bet of $600 to $200 on McKinley was made. E. R. Chapman, of Moore & Schley, has received many inquiries about a report that he offered to be $1,000.00 on election results. He said he never of fered to make any bet of any size.

She pays no attention to them. By and by they grow a little worse, but she is used to them and takes them as a matter of course. By and by, they have grown into dragging pains that occasionally keep her in the house—that occasionally put her to bed. tinctly feminine.

Over thirty years ago, the need for a reliable remedy for so-called "female complaints," was recognized by Dr. R. V. Pierce, then, as now, chief consulting physician to the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, at Buffalo, N. Y. He prepared Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the most wonderfully effective remedy that has ever been used for such maladies. Its sale now exceeds the combined sales of all other medicines for women. Its effect is perceptible almost immediately. It relieves pain, allays inflammation, checks debilitating drains, and quickly subdues other distressing symptoms. It makes the organs and their surrounding tissues strong and healthy, thereby correcting displacements and invigorating the whole body.

methods which savored strongly of ownership on Mr. Platt's part. When this got so far as to take the form of promising what Mr. Black would do in certain circumstances after he became Governor, the candidate, according to the report, drew the line vigorously and firmly. Notice, it is said, was served on the proper persons that the supposed proprietary interest did not exist, and its assertion must be abandoned.

The rumor of friction between Mr. Black and Mr. Platt was positively denied, however, by certain persons at Republican State headquarters yesterday. methods which savored strongly of ownership on

PUBLISHERS' DAY AT THE COMMERCIAL TRAV ELLERS' SOUND MONEY LEAGUE.

Yesterday was booksellers, publishers and sta-tioners' day at the Commercial Travellers' Sound Money League's noon meeting at Broadway and Prince-st. There was an immense attendance. The aisles were packed and many who could not get in and who could not possibly hear any of the speakers stood outside of the doors and cheered when their more fortunate brethren did. General
A. C. Barnes presided. He said that he was a A. C. Barnes presided. He said that he was a Democrat, but was in favor of gold. It was the only way, he said, to preserve the Nation. Mr. Cleveland, he said, might be the last Democratic President for many years, but he would be thanked in later years for the way he had stood, firm as a rock, when pitted against the mob who sought to rob the Nation of its prosperity.

Walter C. E. Emerson, of Maine, a nephew of Ralph Waldo Emerson, was then introduced, and said that his State had already declared itself, and he had no doubt that if the business men and workingmen of this community would only study the issue they would all vote for McKinley and Hobart. The election of Mr. Bryan, he said, meant disaster and suspension of trade.

Lee Fairchild, of California, the next speaker.

said that Bryan was a cyclone (that is to say, he was all wind). There were no doubts in his mind, e said, but that McKinley would carry California James C. Carter, the principal speaker, said that the campaign which Mr. Bryan had been waging appealed to the ignorance of the people. It was ridiculous, he said, to try to maintain the parity of silver with gold at the ratio of 15 to 1 when its commercial value was 22 to 1. Mr. Bryan, he said, appealed to the dishonesty, malice and hatred of the pealed to the dishonesty, malice and narred of the people, and sought to set one man against the other. A short period of time after Mr. Bryan became President, if he should be elected, Mr. Carter predicted, one part of the country would be flying at the throat of the other. He then asked the audience to forget party and to unite to crush the peatlence which threatened the country. Ex-Governor Fletcher, the first Republican Governor of Missouri, was then introduced. "God bless such oid Democrats as Mr. Carter!" he declared. He then said that had marched with McKinley during the war, and knew the stuff he was made of. He had fought four years, he said, to uphold the National Constitution, and thought this had been accomplished when Lee surrendered at Appomatax. and that the flag would never again be assailed. The party represented by Mr. Bryan, he said, had declared that authority should not be continued. He then said that he had known Mr. Bryan from boyhood, and did not consider him fit to fill the President's chair.

Among those present at the meeting were Henry Ivison, ex-Mayor Stuart of Philadelphia, J. B. Lippincott, C. E. Roberts, H. G. Riding, W. A. Burrell, C. F. Dillingham, William Horn, James Clark, D. A TOTAL OF 210,200 FOR THE FIRST TWO DAYS-

An official count of the registration in this city last week has been made at the Bureau of Elec-tions. The number of voters registered on Friday was 129,225, and the number registered on Satur-day was 71,065, making a total of 210,290 for both days. Officials at the Bureau of Elections say that there are about 100,000 more voters in the city who ought to register in the two remaining days of registration, to-morrow and next day. Republicans of New-York and Brooklyn who have not regis-tered should be reminded that the last days for registration in advance of the election are Friday and Saturday of this week. When the registry books are closed on Saturday night there will be no further opportunity to make sure of a vote for McKinley and Hobart. A heavy registration in this city is expected to-morrow.

The police of every precinct are now busy making an investigation of the registration of last Friday and Saturday, to see if any illegal registering has been done. Particular attention is being given to men registered from lodging-houses and Raines law hotels. The police are also taking the names of those who have become guests at lodging-houses and Raines law hotels since the thirtieth day preceding election, and a watch will be kept on them to see that they do not attempt to register.

THE CONVICTED FIREBUG GIVES IMPORTANT INFORMATION AGAINST ALLEGED INCENDIARIES.

Morris Schoenholz, the convicted firebug, who is ow serving a forty-eight-year sentence of imprisonment, was yesterday brought down from Sing Sing Prison, and had a conference with Assistant District-Attorney Vernon M. Davis. Mr. Davis afterward said that Schoenholz had made a full onfession in regard to several incendiary fires in this city, and given much valuable information that would be used on the trial of Isaac Zucker and other alleged firebugs.

TRIED TO BREAK INTO HIS OWN SHOP.

EXPLAIN TO A POLICEMAN THAT HE IS LOCKED OUT.

Policeman McDermott of the Mercer-st, station arraigned in Jefferson Market Court yesterday Pat-rick Singleton, fifty-six years old, of Grassmore, Long Island whom he charged with attempted burg-lary. McDermott said that he caught Singleton trying to hammer off the padlock that fastened the door of the basement cooper shop at Bleecker and Greenwich sts. Singleton was using a cooper's hatchet, and when he tried to arrest him tried to strike him with it. "What have you to say for yourself?" asked

Magistrate Wentworth. "Why, that's my own shop," replied the prisoner "I went out to get a drink yesterday afternoon, and ford, Conn., was charged in the Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday with having broken into the Hastings Yacht Club house on Saturday night and stolen $200 worth of property. Rafferty was arrested on Monday afternoon by Detective Gerighty of the Charles-st. station, who saw him pawn a set of pool balls worth $15 for $1, and arrested him on suspicion. On the following day a story was printed in the newspapers that the Hastings Yacht Club house had been robbed, and that among the property had been a set of billiard and a set of pool balls. He communicated with the Hastings police, with the result that the janitor o the yacht club came to New-York and identified the pool balls as being the property of the club. Rafferty was handed over to the Hastings police to be tried for the robbery. The police believe that Bafferty is one of a gang of thieves who had been robbing yacht clubs around New-York in the last

FIGHTING A RAILROAD EXTENSION.

ARGUMENTS PRESENTED AGAINST GRANTING THE THIRD-AVE. ROAD CERTAIN RIGHTS.

Public Works Commissioner Collis gave a public hearing yesterday to the representatives of the Metropolitan Traction Company, the Union Rali-way Company and the Third Avenue Cable Company, on the proposition made by the Third Agest Cable Company to lay its tracks and build a two system from One-hundred-and-sixty-seconds along Broadway on the Kingsbridge Road to Sputen Duyvil. There were present at the hearing W.
H. Page, representing the Third Avenue company, and ex-Lieutenant-Governor William F. Sheehan, for the Metropolitan and Union companies. The Board of Aldermen two years ago granted the company permission to extend its lines under & provision of the old franchise. The Metropolitan and Union Railway companies are fighting this extension, declaring that it is illegal and void, first, because it is contrary to the railroad companys charter, and, second, because the consent of the property-owners along the route has not been ob-charter, and see along the route has not been obtained.

Mr. Sheehan made a long argument, attacking the validity of the power given the Third-ave, road by the Board. Until the legal rights of that company were established by the courts, Mr. Sheehan urged that the Commissioner of Public Works had no right to grant the petitioners permission to tear up a foot of the city's streets. To come up to the legal requirements, Mr. Sheehan said the consent of a majority of the property-owners abutting on the line must be secured.

Mr. Page said, on behalf of the company, that the railroad had compiled with all the requisite conditions of both the Board of Aldermen and the Railroad Commissioners, and that was all that was necessary.

Lawson N. Fuller spoke in favor of the railrost extension for the Washington Heights contingent. The Commissioner reserved his decision. ELECTION CASES UP FOR HEARING.

WISSEMAN'S CERTIFICATE ACCEPTED IN TO XIVTH ASSEMBLY DISTRICT. Police Commissioners Roosevelt, Grant and As-

drews had several election cases before them yes terday. There was a continued hearing in the dispute between William Lickmann and Conrad C Wisseman. Each contended that he was the regular Republican candidate for Assembly in the XIVE District. The Commissioners had before them as daylts of the delegates who attended the two con-ventions which nominated Lickmann and Wisse man. The former was the machine candidate Both sides contended that sixty-eight delegated were elected to the Assembly Convention. On going over the roll and the affidavits the Commissioners found there were sixty-nine. Of these Wisseman, while five were protested. Lickmans protested against four and Wisseman against one After an inquiry the Commissioners decided that Wisseman was entitled to thirty-four votes and Lickmann to thirty-three. Wisseman was declared to be the regular candidate and his certificate was to be the regular candidate and his certificate was accepted.

The protest made by the Republican party against the nomination of John G. H. Vehslage, the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Vilth Congress District, was also before the Commissioners. The objection was filed by G. H. Sechusen, chairman of the Republican convention which nominated Frankin Bartlett in the same district. The protest is made on the ground that the delegates from Richmond County were not informed of the correct date of the Congress Convention. The case was adjourned till to-morrow.

INSISTED ON HER RIGHTS.

Kittle Clare, a young woman, was a prisoner Essex Market Court yesterday charged with crasing a disturbance in the saloon of Simon Butmer at No. 46 Third-ave. "I don't care about that," she said, excitely. "I

"I don't care about that," she said, excitedly. "I have as much rights as a man. I can take care of myself, and I want a drink. If there is such a thing as the new woman, I am one of them, you can be your life!" The waiter was obdurate, however, and then she picked up chairs and began to throw them around the place, driving the customers of until a policeman arrested her. On her gromise to keep out of the saloon in the future she was discharged.

SCHOENHOLZ CONFESSES.

Schoenholz will give testimony on the trial of Zucker, which will take place October 28 before Justice Smyth in the Criminal Branch of the Supreme Court. Zucker is to be tried for arson in connection with a fire at No. 264 Division-st, on the night of January 4, 1894. Both Schoenholz and Zucker were indicted for this fire, but the former was tried for a fire on East Fourth-st.

Schoenholz also gave information about the fire that occurred at the house of Max Blume, at No. 262 Division-st, on the same night that the fire took place at the house of Zucker, at No. 254. Schoenholz took part in both fires, and will appear as a witness on the trial of Blume.

Mr. Davis has made no promise to Schoenholz to obtain a pardon or commutation of sentence, but schoenholz apparently expects that he will get his sentence lessened. Schoenholz will give testimony on the trial of

"Why didn't you tell the policeman this when he arrested you?" asked the Magistrate
"I ain't telling my troubles to every policeman I seo," replied Singleton.

Magistrate Wentworth held Singleton while his story was investigated. It proved to be true, and he was then discharged from custody.
